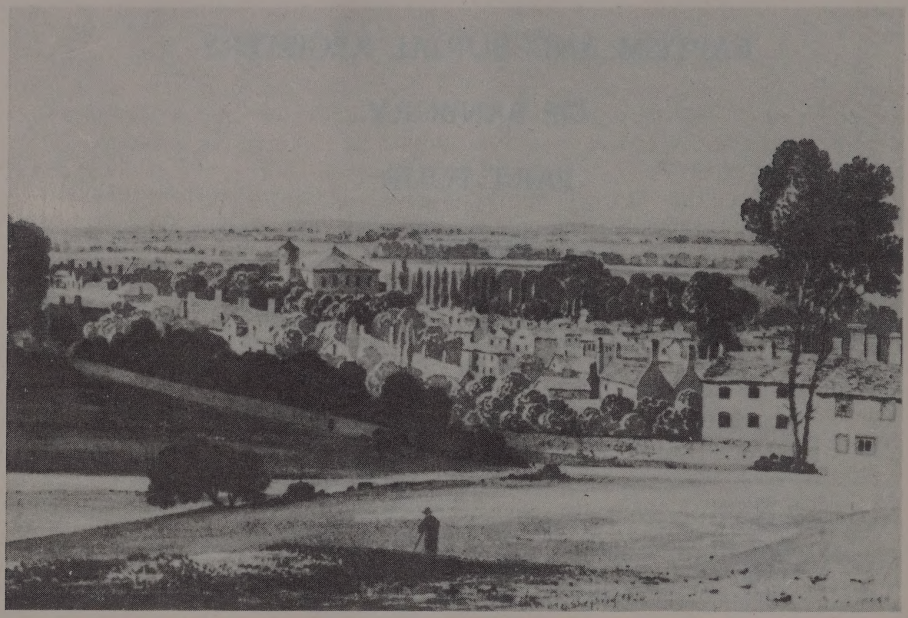
BAPTISM AND BURIAL REGISTERS OF BANBURY

PART FOUR

1813–1838



Banbury and St. Mary's Church in 1820

A panoramic view of Banbury from the 'Bear Garden', a wash drawing done in 1820 by George Shepherd. The church, built in the 1790's, with its unfinished tower and cap of sheet iron dominates the scene. In front are the trees of Horse Fair and South Bar, the houses on The Green (seen from behind), their gardens and the wall of the Shades pathway. The small tower showing up against the trees in the middle distance, to the right of the church, was probably the clock tower on the town hall. This picture was acquired by the Borough Museum (as it was then) through the good offices of the Banbury Historical Society, and is reproduced by kind permission of Cherwell District Council, the present administrators of the Museum.

The front cover illustration of St. Mary's Church and the neighbouring Vicarage is taken from W.P. Johnson's "History of Banbury".

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

As explained in the Introduction, these registers were transcribed and personal name indexes prepared many years ago by the late R.C. Couzens. That they have at last been published is in large part due to Mrs Mavis Cotterell, a member of the Oxfordshire Family History Society living in Banbury, who has most generously typed the bulk of the volume. Only the preliminary pages, first few years of the Baptisms, and the indexes of occupations and places have been prepared by myself. The tedious work of proof-reading was undertaken by the Society's Chairman, Dr John Rivers. I am most grateful to them both for this important help with what are normally editorial chores.

During the final stages of preparation for the press, I have received help from Carl Boardman and other staff at Oxfordshire Archives (formerly the County Record Office), where the original registers are now deposited; and from Mrs Susan Lumas and colleagues at the Public Record Office, Chancery Lane, in checking nonconformist registers deposited there. I should like to associate with my thanks to them two Historical Society stalwarts, Barrie Trinder and Penelope Renold, whose interest and encouragement have been a great support.

As with many earlier volumes, the British Academy have once again given us a generous grant to help offset the costs of production, which invariably exceed subscription income.

Tribute has already been paid to the co-operation and friendship of the late Revd. R.P.R. Carpenter and his successor the Revd. D.I.T. Eastman, during whose incumbencies the registers were originally transcribed. The Society has continued to enjoy close liaison with their successors, and it is with the present incumbent's permission that this transcript is published.

INTRODUCTION

This volume completes, after a period of nearly thirty years, the publication of the pre-General Registration parish registers for Banbury in Oxfordshire, probably the most populous in the county.

The baptism and burial entries here published are contained in four volumes of the registers of St. Mary's, Banbury. This was the only ancient parish for Banbury. Separate registers for the parish of South Banbury (Christchurch), created in the mid-nineteenth century, and St. Paul, Neithrop (chapel of ease to St. Mary's), only commence in 1853. The original parish included, in addition to the town and borough of Banbury itself, the hamlets of Calthorpe, Easington, Hardwick, Neithrop and Wickham or Wykham, in Oxfordshire; and, in Northamptonshire, Grimsbury, Huscote and Nethercote, and Spital Farm. Overthorpe, technically in the parish of Middleton Cheney, also occurs regularly in the Banbury registers. The Northamptonshire part of the parish was transferred to Oxfordshire in 1889.

The Registers

The four volumes, two each for Baptisms and Burials respectively, are in the normal printed form introduced countrywide by Rose's Act of 1812, the first of each running from 1st January 1813. As the second volume of Baptisms, starting in 1826, is concluded at the end of 1838, the transcript was continued to that date, eighteen months after the introduction of General Registration. The transcript of Burials has therefore also been continued to the same date, though that second volume, starting in 1832, actually does not finish until 1867.

The Marriages for the corresponding period were published in Volume Five (1963), covering 1790-1837. The earlier Marriage registers are in Volumes Two, 1558-1723 (1960) and Three, 1723-1790 (1961). Baptisms and Burials (together) are in Volumes Seven, 1558-1653 (1966) and Nine, 1653-1723 (1968); and for 1723-1812 (separately), in Volumes Sixteen, Baptisms (1978) and Eighteen, Burials (1984).

All the Banbury parish registers are now deposited in Oxfordshire Archives (formerly the County Record Office), where they were transferred when that took over the role of Diocesan Record Office from the Bodleian Library in 1984. The reference numbers of the volumes published here are all prefixed MSS.D.D.Par.Banbury: Baptisms, 1813-1826, b.7 (302 pages), 1826-1838, b.8 (302 pages); Burials, 1813-1832, b.12 (300 pages), 1832-1867, b.13 (580 pages).

The registers reflect the steady expansion of Banbury's population during the period, but have no specially significant features. Seventy deaths from smallpox are recorded in the summer of 1827, and just four from 'spasmodic cholera' in the summer of 1832. Strangely there are no burials at all recorded for June 1814.

Bishop's Transcripts

Bishop's Transcripts exist for the whole period and until 1851. As the registers themselves are in good condition and well maintained, no comparison has been made.

Nonconformists

In Volume Sixteen, baptism or birth entries for the various denominations of nonconformists active in the parish were included in the appendix. In this volume they have instead been incorporated chronologically in the main transcript, with initials in parentheses to indicate the persuasion. The bodies and periods covered by their registers were:

C = Congregationalists (Independents; Lady Huntingdon's Connexion). The pre-1813 entries have been published in Volume Sixteen (where they are incorrectly referenced), from the original in the Public Record Office, RG.4/2919. A succeeding and partially over-lapping register, RG.4/1593, contains entries to May 1837. As nearly all are for Banbury parishioners, all post-1812 entries have been included in the chronological sequence, including those from outside the parish. There is a transcript by Brian Young at Oxfordshire Archives.

F = Society of Friends (Quakers). January 1813 - June 1837 (taken from the alphabetical digest made c.1840, now at Oxfordshire Archives). The Monthly Meeting also included a wide area round Banbury. Only entries for Banbury parishioners have been extracted.

P = Presbyterians. There were no separate registers for the Banbury Presbyterian Chapel ("The Great Meeting") before 1816, the officiating minister during the preceding eighteen years not being "ordained to the pastoral office" and therefore unable to perform baptisms. However, the Revd. Joseph Jevans of Bloxham and Milton performed baptisms of children born in Banbury, and entered them in his own register (P.R.O., RG.4/1721; a transcript is at Oxfordshire Archives). Entries for Banbury parishioners, 1813-1816, and occasional later entries to 1824, have been abstracted and included in chronological position ("Bloxham P"). From December 1816 there is a Presbyterian register for Banbury itself (P.R.O., RG.4/1413; full transcript in preparation), and entries from this are included here.

W = Wesleyan Methodists. The printed form volume (P.R.O. RG.4/1353) starts in the autumn of 1813 and entries have been extracted to June 1837, for Banbury parish, including Neithrop and Grimsbury, only (the register was for "Children of the Methodists in the Town and Vicinity of Banbury" of which about half were Banbury parishioners. There were three early-1813 entries in the preceding register (published in Volume Sixteen), repeated here. The original is a small exercise book now sewn into the back of the printed form volume with the same P.R.O. reference.

The only congregation with a burial ground and register was the Society of Friends. Quaker deaths/burials are included in the chronological sequence. Other nonconformist entries should appear in the main parish registers (as they do, of course, for marriages).

Roman Catholics

In the eighteenth century Roman Catholics worshipped at Warkworth Castle. On its demolition a chapel was built in Overthorpe, which served until the erection in 1835-8 of St. John's Church in South Bar, Banbury. No register as such survives, but the journal of Father P.J. Hersent, Priest there from 1802 to 1832, contained entries of baptisms and a few burials which were extracted by the Revd. C.I. Bowen in 1876. This transcript and the original journal are now in the Roman Catholic Birmingham Diocesan Record Office. Mrs A.M. Hodgson, Assistant Archivist there and a member of the Birmingham and Midland Society for Genealogy and Heraldry, kindly retranscribed this. The pre-1813 entries were published in Volume Sixteen. Unfortunately it was not possible to incorporate the 1813-1832 entries in the chronological sequence or index, but a separate index to the surnames of parties (but not Godparents etc.) is given as an Addendum, page 224. Copies of Mrs Hodgson's transcript are at Oxfordshire Archives and the Society of Genealogists.

Anglican Clergy

For virtually the whole period of this volume, the Vicar of Banbury was the Reverend Thomas William Lancaster. He was born in 1787, son of the Reverend Thomas Lancaster, came up to Oriel College, Oxford, in 1804, B.A. in 1807, M.A. in 1810, becoming a Fellow of Queen's College the previous year. He was ordained and became Curate at Banbury in 1812. The Vicar at that time was John Lamb, D.D., who had been incumbent since 1783, nephew of Matthew Lamb, the Vicar from 1758 to 1780 (a fine piece of nepotism!). By 1813 Lamb was often non-resident, and indeed in the 35 months before Lancaster succeeded him in November 1815, he did not officiate at a single baptism (though he did appear once subsequently, in June 1819). For all this period and for the next eight years Lancaster was regularly officiating.

From 1817 until 1830 there were a succession of curates who also regularly officiated at baptisms:

Oct 1817 - May 1819	Archibald Creighton
Sep 1819 - Jun 1820	C.H. Clifton
Jul 1821 - Oct 1822	George Smalley
Nov 1822 - Sep 1823	William West
Oct 1823 - Jun 1825	Henry Adams Sergison Atwood
Jun 1825 - Jul 1826	Charles Cutbush
Aug 1826 - Sep 1827	Yate Fosbridge
Sep 1827 - Oct 1828	Richard Yaldwyn
Oct 1828 - Jul 1829	John Hill
Jan 1830 - Mar 1830	Henry Wrighton.

In addition to these, of course, there were occasional appearances of local clergy, mostly curates, from Barford St. Michael, Bodicote, Broughton, Chacombe, Deddington, Drayton, Horley, Mollington and Claydon, Shotteswell, Sulgrave, Swalcliffe and Warmington, and from further afield: Ealing and Limehouse in Middlesex, and Merton in Surrey ("T. Lancaster", probably the Vicar's father).

T.W. Lancaster's biography is given in E.R.C. Brinkworth's article 'A Nineteenth Century Vicar of Banbury: Thomas William Lancaster', Portrait now or formerly in the vestry of St. Mary's Church, believed to be of THOMAS WILLIAM LANCASTER.

Cake & Cockhorse, vol. 2, no. 4 (March 1963), pp.57-61, on which much of this section is based. He describes how Lancaster's interests were predominantly academic. Consequently after about 1823 he lived some half of his time in Oxford, leaving the parish in the charge of assistant priests - as evidenced by the curates listed on page ix.

Whilst this situation in theory remained until 1849, when Lancaster, Banbury's longest serving incumbent, was persuaded by the redoubtable Bishop Samuel Wilberforce to exchange livings with William Wilson of Over Worton, the arrival of John Richard Rushton as Curate in June 1830 changed matters so that effectively he filled the role of incumbent until 1841, when he moved to Hook Norton. He was the regular officiating minister at baptisms thereon, he clearly took an important part in local activities and, significantly in this context, Alfred Beesley dedicated his great History of Banbury to him in 1841.

No account of the numerous nonconformist clergy is attempted here. Barrie Trinder, the acknowledged authority on Banbury nonconformity in the nineteenth century, has well described this in the chapter 'Two Distinct Camps: The Churches in Banbury 1830-1851' in his Victorian Banbury (B.H.S. Volume Nineteen) as well as in the earlier Banbury Hundred volume of the Victoria County History and various articles in Cake & Cockhorse.

Trades and Occupations

Banbury's parish clerks had from the seventeenth century generally included status, trades and occupations in the registers. The post-1812 printed form baptism registers required this information too. There was no such requirement for burial entries, so in a retrograde step, these details were no longer provided, though ages are given. An alphabetical list of trades and occupations given in the baptism registers is provided, with the names of those so described. The actual date and entry can be obtained from the index of personal names. The names are not given of those engaged in the commonest occupations (labourer, carpenter, shoemaker, tailor, weaver), but are included for almost as frequent trades: baker, blacksmith, boatman (showing the importance of the Oxford Canal at this time), butcher, cabinetmaker, draper, farmer, grocer, mason, miller, ostler, plasterer, servant and victualler. The range of less common and specialist occupations, over 250 in all, demonstrates Banbury's local importance.

Places

The printed form registers did require details of abode, and these provide a wealth of street and other place names. It is noted that at the end of the year 1835 the names of the streets, lanes etc. in Banbury were altered, by authority of the Commissioners under the Lighting and Paving Act, and from 1836 the new names are used.

A list of all place names within the parish is provided. As many of these occur on almost every page, a normal index has not been attempted. Instead references are given to the first page of occurrence in the baptisms and again in the burials sections, followed by a '+' sign to indicate frequent subsequent pages. Only in a very few cases of rare place names are individual page references given.

There is also a normal index, arranged by county, to all place names occurring outside the parish.

Monumental Inscriptions

Initial clearance of Banbury churchyard took place before this Society existed to make a full record of the monumental inscriptions. Years later an attempt was made to record those that remained legible. The result was given in Appendix A of Volume Eighteen, where they are numbered 1 to 170, and also included in the index to that volume. A good many were for the post-1812 period, and the reference "MI" and number is given against the appropriate burial entries in this volume. Volume Eighteen must be consulted for the details of the inscriptions.

Probate Records

As in earlier volumes, references to wills and other probate records in the Peculiar Court of Banbury (PCB) are noted against burial entries of testators. These are taken from the index to the Peculiar Court records (published as B.H.S. Volume One and Oxfordshire Record Society Volume Forty), which are now in Oxfordshire Archives. There are a few Banbury PCB references for which no burial entry has been found. These are listed alphabetically in the Appendix on page 152, but are not included in the index to burials. It should be noted that by this period local probate courts, particularly those of Peculiars like Banbury, were falling into disuse, and Banburians' wills and letters of administration are very likely to be found instead in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, whose records and unpublished indexes are at the Public Record Office in Chancery Lane, London.

Personal Name Indexes

It must be noted that there are separate personal name indexes to Baptisms and to Burials. These have been indexed by year and month, not page, and in all cases the initial figures "18" have been omitted. Full explanations of use are given at the start of each index, pages 153 and 196.

As in earlier volumes, these indexes were the work of the late R.C. Couzens, who also in this case made the transcript from the original registers. A man with no Banbury associations of his own, but an enthusiastic member of the Society of Genealogists, he undertook the work to benefit other genealogists, family and local historians. In it he has an enduring memorial.

APPENDIX

Wills of Banbury (parish) inhabitants, or of people holding land in Banbury, for whom no entry occurs in the Burial registers published here, 1813-1838. Some may be for nonconformists of denominations not amalgamated in this transcript (which includes the Society of Friends, but most other nonconformists did not have burial grounds, so would in any case have Anglican burials).

These entries (which include other probate references as well as wills), are extracted from the Index to Wills Proved in the Peculiar Court of Banbury 1542-1858 (Banbury Historical Society 1 and Oxfordshire Record Society 40, 1959). Probate entries identified with an appropriate burial entry are indicated against such entries. However, no guarantee is given that all such entries have been so identified - for instance, the will of Joseph Wise, senior sergeant at mace and borough gaoler, who was buried 24 Dec 1804, was not proved until 2 Oct 1817, and the published Burial Register (B.H.S.18) has no cross reference, but see Banbury Gaol Records (B.H.S.21, pp.209-12).

Banbury residents, particularly the wealthier, would have their wills proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury (PCC). The records and unpublished indexes for this Court are at the Public Record Office, Chancery Lane, London WC2A 1LR, and no attempt has been made to identify Banbury testators.

The records of the Peculiar Court of Banbury are in the Oxfordshire County Record Office, County Hall, Oxford, where they are referenced MSS Wills Peculiars (the letters 'O' and 'P' refer to volumes of registered copies); there may also be separate individual original wills; the 'Act Book' numbers refer to folios, and will be to Letters of Administration (Admons.) for those dying intestate.

INDEX TO SURNAMES

Baptisms, 1813-1838

Explanation: The references in this index refer to the years from 1813 and 1838 and the month in that year. They do not refer to pages or days of the month. An asterisk indicates more than one reference to the name in the month concerned.
All entries for each surname are first given chronologically. For the common surnames, Christian name entries are also given to the parents of children baptised. A Christian name reference is not normally given to the child baptised, unless its parents are not named in the register.
Entries from registers of other denominations have been included in the main chronological sequence, so are not distinguished in this Index.

INDEX TO SURNAMES

Burials, 1813-1838

Explanation: The references in this index refer to the years from 1813 and 1838 and the month in that year. They do not refer to pages or days of the month. An asterisk indicates more than one reference to the name in the month concerned.

All entries for each surname are first given chronologically. For the common surnames, Christian name entries are also given for adults and for the parents in cases of infant burial, but not normally for the infant itself, unless no parents are named.

Monumental Inscriptions in Banbury Churchyard at any period are to be found in Appendix B to Banbury Burials, Pt. 3, 1723-1812 and include a number that are post-1812, duly indexed in that volume.
